Curriculum Vitae - updated July 25th, 2025

"The true difference between languages is not in what may or may not be expressed but in what must or must not be conveyed by the speaker." - R. Jakobson

Introduction

My name is Thanh Viet Cao (Vietnamese: "Cao Thành Việt"). My main research interests include semantics, pragmatics, and syntax of classifier languages in light of formal approaches, i.e., model-theoretical semantics and comparative syntax within the framework of generative grammar.

I have just defended my PhD dissertation (title: Quantification and Plurality at the Interface: The case of Vietnamese) on May 14th, 2025, under the supervision of Dr. I-Ta Chris Hsieh. My thesis mainly touches upon strategies of universal quantification (involving the four D-quantifiers tất-cả, cả, mọi, mỗi) and plurality (involving các, những) in Vietnamese from compositional and cross-linguistic perspectives. Besides, language contact among MSEA languages from historical linguistics aspects, especially the historical lexicology (i.e., etymology) of the Vietnamese lexicon, has always attracted my attention since the first days I embarked on my journey in linguistics.
