"The true difference between languages is not in what may or may not be expressed but in what must or must not be conveyed by the speaker." - R. Jakobson

Introduction

My name is Thanh Viet Cao (Vietnamese: "Cao Thành Việt"). My main research interests include semantics, pragmatics, and syntax of classifier languages in light of formal approaches, i.e., model-theoretical semantics and comparative syntax within the framework of generative grammar. I defended my PhD dissertation (title: Quantification and Plurality at the Interface: The case of Vietnamese) on May 14th, 2025, under the supervision of Dr. I-Ta Chris Hsieh. My thesis mainly touches upon strategies of universal quantification (involving the four D-quantifiers tất-cả, cả, mọi, mỗi) and plurality (involving các, những) in Vietnamese from compositional and cross-linguistic perspectives. Besides, language contact among MSEA languages from historical linguistics aspects, especially the historical lexicology (i.e., etymology) of Vietic languages, has always attracted my attention since the first days I embarked on my journey in linguistics.
